CIVIL RIGHTS

COMMISSIONER TODD STAPLES
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The purpose of this brochure is to provide guidance and information regarding Civil Rights (FNS Instruction No. 113-1) and how it is applied in the Child Nutrition Programs.

Civil Rights Policies and Procedures Followed by Child Nutrition Programs:

Equal access to the Food and Nutrition Programs is essential. There is no discrimination allowed in eating periods, seating arrangements, serving lines or eating areas based on:

1. Age
2. Color
3. Disability
4. National Origin
5. Race
6. Sex

Participants must take reasonable steps to assure individuals with Limited English Proficiency (LEP) have access to information and services. This can be accomplished through translators, bilingual staff, outreach, Web sites or community organizations.

The Public Notification informs applicants, participants and potential eligibles of program availability, complaint information and the non-discrimination statement.

Districts must prominently display the And Justice For All Poster in the food service area and where applications are processed.

Civil Rights Training must be conducted annually with all Child Nutrition funded staff. Documentation of training must be kept on file.

Data Collection by race and ethnic category on potential eligibles is collected through the Public Education Information Management System at school districts.

Local Education Agencies must maintain required records pertaining to the program for five years.

Complaint procedures must be included on all appropriate program materials. Written or verbal complaints based on the six factors of discrimination must be forwarded to the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Admission procedures must not restrict enrollment by minority persons.

Incorrectly denied free/reduced applications must not be disproportionately composed of minority applications.

Students living with disabilities (or special needs) must be provided equal program benefits.

Frequently Asked Question: Can we separate boy, girl, boy, girl when the students sit down to eat in the cafeteria?

Answer: No. There is no separation based on race, color, sex, disability, age or national origin in eating periods, seating arrangements, serving lines or eating areas.
